

Photo's from Robert J. Doney

LtJg Leonhardt, Italian Highway Patrol, MMFN Kromery.
After blowout on return from Rome to Naples.

If you look closely you actually see two “Carabinieri” and someone changing the tire at the side of the bus.

Probably this photo was taken in a Naples "Healthfood juice bar"

The three photo's were from the late 60's as I see them. They have Dick Leonhardt in them and that was his era. The Machine Shop picture is taken looking forward in the Engineering Berthing Space, as the hatch to the shop is to the left. The machine shop was forward of the berthing compartment.

BTW, that shop is where I started my association with the Berry "snipes" thanks to you Dave. The day you handed me that bent, chipped and mutilated screwdriver and said to get it fixed I went directly to the shop, fixed the tool in a couple of minutes and then spent some time drinking coffee and talking to the guys there.

Thanks!!!!
